Hana Ryskova Wins the 2024 Championship

As she prepared for her first round of stroke play in the 37th U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur Championship at Brae Burn Country Club, Lindsay Gahm saw a familiar University of Louisville golf bag near the practice green.

The bag belonged to Hana Ryskova, the native of the Czech Republic having just completed her college golf career and her MBA at the Kentucky school. Gahm, 32, a lifelong Louisville resident, introduced herself and they found out they live about 10 minutes apart. Five days later, after five rounds of grueling match play, No. 6 seed Ryskova and No. 12 seed Gahm met again, in Thursday's 18-hole championship final.

It turned out to be Ryskova's day, as the 25-year-old never trailed, taking the lead for good on the par-3 sixth hole, then reeling off four wins in five holes to seal a 5-and-4 victory over Gahm, who struggled with her speed most of the day on the testing Donald Ross greens. The long-hitting Ryskova birdied all three par 5s on the incoming nine (Nos. 10, 13 and 14) en route to victory over Gahm, who was buoyed by the presence of her husband, Austin Gutgsell, who flew into Boston the previous night to caddie for his wife in the final.

"The trophy was coming back to Louisville, no matter what, so we knew it was going to be special," said Ryskova during the closing ceremony. Her boyfriend, Ethan Short, has caddied for Ryskova all week and she noted on Wednesday that, "It's a dream come true. We started dating almost three years ago, and he loves to play. For him being here and caddieing for me, we are here mainly just for the memories, and they're just getting better and better every day."

Ryskova becomes the first golfer from the Czech Republic, also known as Czechia, to capture a USGA championship. The native of Frydek-Mistek, about 9 miles south of the regional capital of Ostrava near the borders of Poland and Slovakia, had an outstanding junior career, finishing seventh in the 2014 World Junior Girls Championship and competing for her country five times in the European Team Championship and twice in the Women's World Amateur Team Championship. She reached as high as No. 106 in the Women's World Amateur Golf Ranking®/WAGR® and went on the earn ACC academic honors twice at Louisville and earned her MBA in May.

Gahm has a 5-month-old son, Wyatt, with husband Gutgsell, who qualified for the 2022 U.S. Mid-Amateur at Erin Hills. A golf irrigation sales manager, Gahm tries to keep her game sharp around work and the demands of motherhood. She typically plays once a week and was thrilled to reach the final in her third U.S. Women's Mid-Am start, having survived her Round-of-16 match with Judith Kyrinis, of Canada, by sinking a 30-foot birdie putt on the 18th green to extend it, then winning in 19 holes. Kyrinis, 60, was the 2017 U.S. Senior Women's Amateur champion.

"I'm just grateful to be here," said Gahm, who reached the Round of 16 in 2022. "I haven't been playing much golf since having our baby. I really didn't have any expectations; just getting here to the final was a dream come true. Really happy for Hana, though. She played solid today. She's a great person and a fierce competitor."

Along with the Mildred Gardinor Prunaret Trophy (named for a longtime member of Brae Burn Country Club who captained the USA Curtis Cup Team in 1960), Ryskova is exempt into the next 10 U.S. Women's Mid-Amateurs, the 2025 and 2026 U.S. Women's Amateur and the 2025 U.S. Women's Open Presented by Ally at Erin Hills in Erin, Wis.

When asked what she was most looking forward to in competing at Erin Hills next summer, Ryskova mentioned Nelly Korda, whose father, Petr, is a Czech native and a standout tennis professional who won the 1998 Australian Open.

"Obviously I would love to play with Nelly, but in general, I'm there as a player and I want to focus on my game," said Ryskova. "I always wanted to play with [three-time U.S. Women's Open champion] Annika Sorenstam, because she's European and people say I sound like her, look like her. So it would be a dream to talk to her and play with her, but obviously she's probably not going to be there."

Ryskova becomes the second international player to win the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur title, joining Mary Ann Lapointe (now Hayward), of Canada, who won in 2005. Ryskova, who earned her berth in the 132-player field as a top-10 player in the WAGR (No. 224), defeated three fellow international players on the way to the final. She defeated Alexandra Vilatte Farret, of France, in a record-tying 22 holes in Wednesday's semifinal, having extended the match with a winning par on the par-4 18th hole.

NOTABLE

Lindsay Gahm is the granddaughter of Dwight Gahm, the founder of Valhalla Golf Club in Louisville, three-time host of the PGA Championship (including 2024) and the 2008 Ryder Cup Matches. She and husband Austin Gutgsell are members at Valhalla.

Hana Ryskova played 102 holes over the six rounds of match play, which is tied for the fifth-most holes required by a champion all-time. The most is 108, by Corey Weworski in 2004 at Holston Hills Country Club in Knoxville, Tenn. The fewest holes needed came in the inaugural championship in 1987, when Cindy Scholefield needed just 81 holes at Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla.

At 25 years, 10 months and 1 day, Ryskova is the third-youngest U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur champion. The youngest is Lauren Greenleaf, who captured the title just 25 days after turning 25 in 2015.

Championship History

The U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur Championship began in 1987 as a result of a need determined by an ad hoc committee headed by Dena Nowotny, a member of the USGA Women's Committee.

The Women's Mid-Amateur, the USGA's 13th championship, was created to provide a national competitive arena for amateurs age 25 and older.

By 1987, it had become increasingly difficult for female amateur golfers beyond college to compete equitably with their collegiate counterparts, for whom golf was nearly a full-time vocation. One must go back to 1973 and Carol Semple Thompson to find the last career amateur to win the U.S. Women's Amateur.

As with any new championship, there was initial concern with the level of entries. In this case, women amateurs responded with enthusiasm. The first championship attracted 320 entries, only 29 fewer than the number that had entered the 1987 Women's Amateur a few weeks earlier.

The starting field of 135 players was determined by sectional qualifying. The first Women's Mid-Amateur was played at Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla., and was won by Cindy Scholefield, 27, of Malibu, Calif.

The Women's Mid-Amateur has been the setting for a number of noteworthy finals. In 1989, Robin Weiss, of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., defeated Page Marsh Lea on the 22nd hole. In 1990, despite the tremendous pressure of competing on her home course as a crowd favorite, Carol Semple Thompson, 41, of Sewickley, Pa., defeated Marsh Lea, 3 and 1, at the Allegheny Country Club, where Semple Thompson had learned the game.

Two women have won the Women's Mid-Amateur on four occasions. In 2011, Ellen Port, of St. Louis, Mo., captured her fourth championship title with a 2-and-1 victory over 2009 champion Martha Leach at Bayville Golf Club in Virginia Beach, Va. Having previously won in 1991, 1993 and 2000, Port's 11-year span between victories broke the record of seven years, set by Thompson in 1997.

The following year, Meghan Stasi, of Oakland Park, Fla., won her fourth Women's Mid-Amateur, taking a 6-and-5 victory over Liz Waynick at Briggs Ranch Golf Club in San Antonio, Texas. She won back-to-back titles in 2006 and 2007 under her maiden name of Bolger, and also took the victory in 2010.

Sarah LeBrun Ingram, of Nashville, Tenn., in 1994 became the first player to take consecutive Women's Mid-Amateur championships. She had previously won in 1991 and 1993.

In 2020, the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
